

Admissions Brochure for Self-funded Postgraduate Students and International Students at Liaoning University of Traditional Chinese Medicine

Self-funded Master's program

School Introduction

Liaoning University of Traditional Chinese Medicine (LNUTCM) was established in 1958, originally known as "Liaoning College of Traditional Chinese Medicine". Approved by the Liaoning Provincial Committee, Liaoning TCM Training School (established in 1955) and Liaoning TCM Hospital (established in 1956) combined into the present Liaoning University of Traditional Chinese Medicine (LNUTCM). Renamed "Liaoning University of Traditional Chinese Medicine" in 2006 with the approval of the Ministry of Education, it is the only higher education institution in Liaoning Province dedicated to Traditional Chinese Medicine.

LNUTCM covers a total area of more than 1000 acres, with the main campus located in Shenyang, the capital city of Liaoning Province, and the branch campuses located in Dalian and Benxi respectively, forming the "one university, three campuses" pattern. The University has set up 7 disciplines, including medicine, science, engineering, management, literature, law and agriculture, with 27 undergraduate majors and more than 13300 students. LNUTCM boasts 18 colleges, 4 directly affiliated hospitals, 1 teaching department, 3 teaching and experiment centers, 1 laboratory animal center, 1 academy of science, 3 research institutes, 3 libraries, and it is the only institution of higher education in Liaoning Province that cultivates talents in Traditional Chinese Medicine (TCM), Traditional Chinese Pharmacology, Acupuncture and Tuina, Chinese and Western Medicine in Clinical Practice, Senior Nursing and other medical related fields.
